NARRATE™

NARRATE™

When it comes to today's open office landscape, visual expression is more essential than ever.

Whether it is a first impression or sustaining ever-changing workplace activities, the interior plays an important role in communicating the company's voice, character and aspirations. Environment aesthetics set an important tone—whether bold or subtle, dramatic or contemporary. Visual expression can happen anywhere, yet for decades, system surfaces and materials have largely been ignored. Narrate changes that in dramatic style, emphasizing the personality of a brand and creating positive experiences in today's workplace.

Narrate offers a streamlined framework to tell your brand story throughout the workplace landscape. While bringing together a wide range of complementary components and products, Narrate's end panel system can be outfitted with customized graphics, mixed materials, layered panels, seamed panels and more. The collection allows designers to incorporate 'shelters', creating visual interest, acoustical separation or to encourage private thinking areas. With an advanced infrastructure, Narrate fully supports teams with a seamless integration of storage, technology, and the choice of static or height-adjustable work surfaces. What's more, technology is effortlessly incorporated with the ease of connection through any panel and cleanly concealed throughout the system. Narrate works hard for you, instinctively combining design, technology and flexibility to support a dynamic workplace environment.

Let your brand story unfold through the expressive, flexible design system of Narrate.

BREAKING THE TRADITION

Narrate is a departure from the ordinary, offering a look that's simple and structured, yet visually interesting. In the open setting, Narrate breaks down walls and brings people closer together.

THINK OUTSIDE THE BOX

In today's brand-focused, design-forward settings, panel systems have clashed with the need for more open, collaborative settings. At the same time, these work spaces do have a few perks: privacy, personalization and an efficient footprint. Narrate embraces these attributes while encouraging flexibility, freedom, and social interaction.

READY, SET, CHANGE

Narrate makes for incredibly versatile settings. Create accommodations for internal teams, a touchdown space for mobile workers, or an open spot for workplace guests.
